TOUR CONCEPT

The Wild Roads Touring Club is a different kind of motorcycle adventure — designed for riders who want the freedom of independent touring without the hassle of organising everything themselves.

Unlike a traditional guided tour, there's no rigid formation riding, fixed pace, or pressure to follow a lead rider all day. Instead, everything is professionally organised for you:

- Hand-picked accommodation
- Expertly planned routes
- GPX files & touring app access
- Ferry crossings & logistics
- A relaxed social atmosphere

Each rider is free to experience the journey their own way.

Some riders head off solo for the day.
Others naturally form smaller riding groups.
Some stop constantly for coffee and photos.
Others spend all day chasing mountain roads.

There's no pressure — just freedom.

Then each evening, everyone reconnects at the next hotel to share stories from the road over great food, drinks, and good company. It's the perfect balance between independence and camaraderie.

Ride your own ride — together.

FOLKESTONE TO ARDENNES REGION

DAY 1

Start Location: Folkestone
End Location: Ardennes, Belgium
Distance: Approx. 200 Miles
Highlights:

- Channel Tunnel crossing
- Cruise through northern France
- Rolling countryside & forested roads
- Warm-up ride into the Ardennes region

After a smooth and hassle-free tunnel crossing, riders roll off the train tracks and onto the wide, open roads of northern France. It's an easy-going first day designed to let everyone settle into the rhythm of the adventure at their own pace. Quiet villages, open farmland, and flowing backroads create the perfect introduction to life on the continent.

As the Belgian border approaches, the scenery begins to shift. Flat plains slowly give way to winding country lanes, rolling hills, and the deep green forests of the Ardennes. The roads start to flow a little more, the corners tighten gently, and the ride begins to come alive.

Some riders will naturally pair up along the way, while others may disappear into the roads solo for a few peaceful hours. That's the beauty of the Open Road Collective — complete freedom to experience the journey your own way, while still sharing the adventure with others.

By late afternoon, everyone arrives at our first overnight stop hidden deep within the Ardennes forest. A cold beer on the terrace, stories from the road, and the relaxed atmosphere of the group set the tone for the days ahead.

ARDENNES REGION TO BLACK FOREST

DAY 2

Start Location: Ardennes
End Location: Black Forest, Germany
Distance: Approx. 240 Miles
Highlights:

- Cross Belgium, Luxembourg & Germany
- Stop for coffee in Luxembourg City
- Enter the legendary Schwarzwald (Black Forest)
- Forest roads, winding corners, and panoramic views

Today's ride is a true continental sweep — three countries, one day and a whole lot of curves in between. Riders leave the Ardennes and weave through misty forests, shaded lanes, and quiet villages as the roads gradually begin to open up.

Luxembourg comes and goes in a blink, but the riding here is superb — smooth sweepers, rolling ridgelines, river valleys, and postcard-perfect villages tucked into the hills. Some riders may stop for long coffees and photos along the way, while others continue carving through the bends ahead.

From there, the route pushes east into Germany and deep into the legendary Black Forest. Dense pine trees line the roads as the riding becomes faster, twistier, and more immersive. Timber-framed villages and roadside cafés appear around almost every corner, making it impossible not to stop and soak it all in.

By evening, everyone rolls into our lodge hidden deep amongst the trees. The bikes are warm, the beers are cold, and the terrace quickly fills with stories from another brilliant day on the road.

BLACK FOREST TO GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN

It's a relaxed riding day designed to let everyone settle into the rhythm of the journey.

The Bavarian countryside feels almost storybook-like — red-roofed villages, onion-domed churches, rustic roadside inns, and mountain peaks slowly growing larger on the horizon. Stops along the way might include a lakeside bratwurst, a quiet village café, or simply pulling over to soak in the scenery for a while.

By late afternoon, riders roll into Garmisch-Partenkirchen — a beautiful alpine town sitting beneath the towering peaks of southern Germany. Classic beer halls, hearty Bavarian food, cobbled streets, and mountain views from every direction make this a brilliant place to spend the evening before the real mountain riding begins.
